

First armless, now legless

20.06.08

They say bad things come in threes.

Nick Prescott, surveyor at Yorkshire industrial agent Gent Visick, will be dreading what sporting injury is coming next after breaking a bone in his foot and dislocating his toe, kicking a ball 'wrongly'.

The injury occurred on Prescott's sporting comeback following a six-month lay-up after a skiing accident in which he broke his arm.